5.6.4 Childcare Facilities for Students 2024-2025

1) Overview and local nursery partnerships (Alexandria)

AASTMT recognises that dependable, affordable childcare is essential for students who are parents — especially student mothers and married students — and for staff and faculty with young children. The Academy therefore combines several practical measures: in Alexandria, the Protocol & Public Relations unit maintains published arrangements with local partner nurseries offering discounts of 10% and up to 30% (Children's House Montessori Nursery & Pre-School, ABC Nursery and Active Child) — see the "Nurseries" page for providers and rates — while the Smart Village campus provides access to an on-site nursery service.

2) Smart Village campus: on-site access and club facilities

On the Smart Village campus, AASTMT's own overview confirms that students receive free membership of the Smart Village Club, giving access to family-oriented facilities on site. Smart Village's official site further indicates that a nursery service is available within the business park (Arabic page: "...هنا في القرية الذكية، هناك إمكانية ترك طفلك في حضانتنا خلال فترة عملك") and highlights the family-friendly environment of the Club.

4) Supporting student-parents, married students and student mothers

Many AASTMT students — particularly women who combine their studies with marriage and motherhood — are also parents of young children. AASTMT's Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy names marital status, pregnancy and maternity among the characteristics on which no student may be disadvantaged, and it applies across admissions, academic programmes, housing and extracurricular activities. This means that a student who becomes pregnant, gives birth or is caring for a baby is entitled to equitable treatment throughout her studies.

The same policy makes deans, managers and academic advisors responsible for ensuring that students know their rights and how to access support, and it commits the Academy to a culturally inclusive learning environment that addresses the diverse needs of learners, including women. Together with the partner-nursery arrangements and the Smart Village nursery service described above, this framework allows student mothers to continue attending lectures, laboratories and examinations while their children are cared for nearby, so that family responsibilities do not force them to interrupt or abandon their education.
