

15.3.2 Monitoring IUCN and other Conservation Species Policies

2023–2024

AASTMT Monitoring IUCN & Conservation Species Policy Presenting Evidence of Events and Involvement Update-2025

The AASTMT “Monitoring IUCN and Conservation Species Policy” emphasizes year-round monitoring and protection of species listed on the IUCN Red List within the Academy’s campuses. It strongly promotes ethical, non-lethal research methods, such as collecting DNA, seeds, or feathers, to minimize harm to wildlife. The policy integrates biodiversity education into academic curricula, student projects, and staff training, strengthening both awareness and capacity. It also aligns with regional and global environmental frameworks — AASTMT participates in international projects like TouMaLi and global forums such as IMO MEPC 82. Finally, the report outlines clear performance indicators (e.g., training numbers, participation in international events) and has a structured action plan to ensure consistent progress.

The screenshot shows the AASTMT website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the phone number 19838, a login button, a language selector set to English (En), and links for information and the AASTMT logo. Below this is a header section titled "Sustainable AASTMT" with an "Apply Now" button. A secondary navigation bar lists various categories: About, Strategy, Environmental Management, Get Involved, Campus Initiatives, Schoole Initiatives, and Commitments. A third bar includes links for SDG Workforce, FAQ, and Contact Us. The main content area features a breadcrumb trail: Home > Sustainable AASTMT > 15. Life on Land > 15.3.2 Monitoring IUCN and other Conservation Species Policies.. On the left, a sidebar menu for "15. Life on Land" includes links to Home, ABOUT, POLICY, RESEARCH, EDUCATION, PROJECTS, and EVENTS. The main content area displays "Goal 15. Life on Land" with a green background. Below this, the text "15.3.2 Monitoring IUCN and other Conservation Species Policies.." is shown in red. The title "AASTMT Monitoring IUCN & Conservation Species Policy. Presenting Evidence of Events and Involvement Update-2025" is displayed in red, underlined, and bold.
