

Anti- Modern Slavery Initiatives

AASTMT promotes anti-slavery practices

In line with AASTMT's alignment with SDG8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth), the AASTMT is dedicated to preventing any violations of human rights. The AASTMT is compliant with Modern Slavery Acts by informing all members of the University community and other stakeholders about the University's policies and practices regarding the risk of modern slavery, human trafficking, forced and bonded labor, and labor rights violations in its supply chains.

For that reason, the AASTMT has established a policy to ensure that all employees work in an atmosphere free of forced labor, modern slavery, human trafficking and child labor. For more information about the policy, please visit:

Initiatives against forced labor, modern slavery, human trafficking and child labor

The second International Conference for Persons with disabilities: The role of entrepreneurship, accessibility centres and assistive technologies towards full inclusion (IC-PACES) – Hybrid Edition Conference (6-7 March 2021)

This Conference edition is an output from the PACES Project which was built upon the SWING project. The first conference was held on November 2015 at AASTMT Alexandria Main Campus under the title of “the International Conference for Sustainable Ways on Integration of Persons with Disabilities in the Labor Market using Assistive Technologies: (IC-SWING). The first conference was organized by AASTMT in partnership with the Egyptian Ministry of Communications and Information Technology and in cooperation with the SWING project that was funded by the EU and the British Consulate-General.

The 2nd International Conference for Persons with disabilities (PwD) is organized by the Arab Academy for Science, Technology and Maritime Transport (AASTMT), under the patronage of the Secretary-General of the League of Arab States, the Egyptian Ministry of Social Solidarity, Egyptian Minister of Youth and Sports, and within the framework of the PACES Project: Progression of Accessibility Centres in higher Education for Students with disabilities in North Africa, which is co-funded by the European Commission under the Erasmus+ Programme for Capacity Building in Higher Education (CBHE).

This hybrid edition of the conference focused on:

1. Knowledge building and launching awareness campaigns for all the stakeholders concerned with the inclusion of students with disabilities (SwD) and the rights of persons with disabilities (PwD).
2. Raising awareness about the Accessibility Centres (AC) in Higher Education Institutions (HEIs), Assistive Technologies (AT) and the Employers' Network.
3. The necessity of training for employment and entrepreneurship for SwD.
